

THE Freyr TRELLIS

by Seattle Urban Farm Company

Designed to be the world's most versatile, durable, beautiful, and sustainable plant support system

WHY FREYR?

Many vegetables and flowers grow best on a trellis. Other trellises we've tried are too short, too flimsy, or rust quickly. We wanted a trellis that made it easier to support vining, trailing, and top-heavy crops. We wanted a trellis that was both beautiful and functional, so we made one.

SIMPLE SETUP

Assemble and start planting in just a few minutes.

ADJUSTABLE SIZE

Choose the height and length that works best in your garden.

STRONG AND STURDY

Supports up to 200 lbs. Stays upright under any conditions.

NEVER RUSTS

A trellis that'll last and look beautiful season after season.

HOW IT WORKS

The Freyr trellis is designed to support crops with strings made of hemp, jute, nylon, or polypropylene. String trellising is the favored technique of professional farmers and makes it easier to train, prune, harvest, and clean up your crops.

Vertical

Drape a string over the top bar and secure to your plant with a trellis clip or knot. Wrap plants around the twine as they grow. Add extra strings and clips if needed as plants send out new shoots.

Horizontal

Tie a string to a vertical post and weave it between plants or just wrap it around the front and back of your trellis. Connect the front and back with strings or trellis clips for added support.

Netting

Any garden netting can be cut to size for your trellis. To provide extra support, add horizontal strings across the front as your plants grow.

FREYR COMES IN BEAUTIFUL COLORS

Add a touch of style to the garden with our muted blue, yellow, purple, and black tones.

ABOUT SEATTLE URBAN FARM CO.

Based in Seattle, Washington, we've been designing, building, and maintaining vegetable gardens since 2007. We've built and cared for hundreds of gardens, in every shape and size.

After years of custom-building trellises, we realized that every garden deserves beautiful, practical structures to support vining, trailing, and top-heavy crops.

We believe gardens should be beautiful and gardening should be fun. We made the Freyr trellis so everyone can grow the most extraordinary and productive garden they've ever had, and enjoy every minute of it.
